

An invitation to:

The 2008 Leadership Masterclass

Leadership Literacies for the Knowledge Era

Venue:

Deakin Management Centre
Deakin University,
Waurin Ponds Campus
Geelong, Victoria. 3217

Dates

November 11-13, 2008
3 day/2 night Residential

November 11-13, 2008

This Leadership Masterclass sets an ambitious agenda to test leadership literacies for the knowledge era, think in the future tense and give senior leaders much needed space for personal reflection and renewal to think deeply about their purpose and pathways to excellence.

The tertiary education sector is competitive, dynamic, multi-layered and globally focussed and new leadership literacies draw on a leader's ability to build strong relationships, know themselves and their people well, and lead with vision and strategy. These times call for new ways of doing business, not more of the same things that are not working.

This residential program is for Senior Leaders in the tertiary education sector (including tertiary administrators and academics in Australasia) who lead

Divisions, Faculties, Departments, etc. This Masterclass will focus on the following themes:

- Values, Vision and Valour (led by Deborah Nanschild www.leadershipexcellence.com.au)
- Engage, Empower, Enlighten (led by Heather Davis www.waypoint.com.au), and
- Focus, inFLUence and Futures (led by Maree Conway www.thinkingfutures.net)
- Reflect, Recharge, Renew (built in to the whole program)

As the focus of this Masterclass is on and about leaders of the tertiary education sector numbers are strictly limited to a maximum of 15 participants.

About the Association for Tertiary Education Management Inc (ATEM)

The Association for Tertiary Education Management Inc (ATEM Inc) is the pre-eminent professional body in Australasia for tertiary education administrators and managers. Established in 1976 as the Australian Institute of Tertiary Education Administrators (AITEA), our Association has grown to around 1,350 individuals and 60 corporate members. Our members are found across the breadth of the academic environment, including Universities, TAFE's, Polytechnics and Wanangas, private providers, government departments and other related organisations. ATEM provides high quality professional development programs via our regions across Australia and New Zealand.

ATEM operates as a learning community and our members are our strength. Members are committed to their careers in tertiary education and to the development of their profession.

Together we work to advance the profession of tertiary education administration and management in order to support and develop excellence in professional practice and institutional management.

About the L H Martin Institute for Higher Education Leadership and Management

The LH Martin Institute is an exciting development designed to enhance post-secondary education in Australia and New Zealand by providing a suite of tailored short and award programs focusing on institutional management and leadership.

The Institute is interdisciplinary and has as its key objectives:

- to train the next generation of leaders of Australia's higher education and VET institutions in the strategic management of their institutions;
- to provide a forum in which public policy makers, public and private sector institutions, and national and international experts can explore, assess and anticipate the changing national and international environment in which higher education and VET operates; and
- to support its educational programs with scholarship and research.

These objectives are being achieved through the provision of: postgraduate coursework programs; continuing professional education conferences and seminars on major policy and management issues; consultancy services; and research and policy analysis.

Based at the University of Melbourne's Graduate School of Education, the Institute's programs are conducted across Australia, New Zealand and internationally.
